$99,864 SOUGHT IN UNITED FUND DRIVE

Palm Springs United Fund launches its second annual resort campaign Saturday, calling for a minimum of $99,864 for the support of its associated agencies.

To speed the program of the United Fund campaign, Mayor Frank Bogert today issued a proclamation calling on all citizens of the entire Palm Springs area to support the united appeal.

TEN CHARITABLE and welfare organizations, including the Community Chest, are represented by the United Fund this year, reported United Fund President Keith Herbert.

Each agency is allotted a specific portion of the fund drive goal to help finance its activities in 1959. Some are local agencies and others are national organizations, but all rely upon public subscription for their operations, campaign chairman Jerry Bunker pointed out.

A BREAKDOWN OF THE 1959 fund goal shows that Community Chest is marked for $61,799, which, in turn, is divided among the groups participating in chest activities.

Chest groups and their individual quotas are: Desert Museum, $10,000; the Palm Springs Boys Club, $14,839; Welfare and Friendly Aid, $9,350; Palm Springs Youth Center, $15,425; Girl Scouts, $6,042; and the Boy Scout Council, $6,043.

OTHER SUBDIVISIONS OF United Fund include American Red Cross, $24,904; Salvation Army, $3,300; Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, $1,200; United Service Organizations, $500; Palm Springs Safety Council, $500; National Travelers Aid, $50; American Hearing Society, $61; Campfire Girls, $200.

The 1959 goal also includes apportionment of $850 to a "tribute fund" for Welfare and Friendly Aid to help support local heart disease and cancer cases, Bunker said.

Operating expenses of the United Fund organization call for $6,500 of the total goal.

RUNNING CONCURRENTLY with United Fund's general campaign is its advanced gifts program, which started last week under the leadership of Frank Bennett. Advanced gifts volunteers are charged with the tasks of securing half of the United Fund goal.

Other United Fund officers responsible for the organization's operation and fund campaign are:

THURMAN ARNOLD, first vice president; Shelby Langford, second vice president; Mrs. Alice Hough, secretary; Herb Samson, treasurer.

Herschel Graham, chairman of the budget committee; C. Ronald Ellis, publicity chairman; Don Fry, employee participation chairman.

Other members of the United Fund board of directors are Homer Hilton, past president; Mrs. Florence Ambler, Val Blatz, Mrs. Adele Colgan, Bob Hollister, Mrs. Grace Jablow, Mrs. Georgia Kettman, Tom Kieley, Fred Ingram, Mrs. Erna Poliak, Roger Williams and Ardian Rosen.

Rancho Mirage TV Plant Construction Due to Begin

RANCHO MIRAGE — Construction will start Saturday on a new television plant designed to pipe TV programming into Rancho Mirage area homes.

Charles Trimble, president of the Cable Television System, Inc., said area residents will view television programs beamed over seven Los Angeles channels "within two or three weeks."

TRIMBLE SAID HE plans to extend his cable television service to Palm Desert, Thunderbird and Cathedral City "as soon as the Rancho Mirage project is completed."

Groundbreaking will get under way early Saturday on a plant designed to receive signals from

Los Angeles and pipe programs to consumers via coaxial cables. Trimble, who installed similar systems in Oregon, said his company has conducted tests for the past six months with "excellent results."

"WE WILL PRODUCE very sharp pictures from all seven Los Angeles television stations," he reported.

The Rancho Mirage fee schedule, he said, calls for $125 installation charge and a monthly rate of $5 for cable users.

"We plan to spread to Palm Desert, Thunderbird and Rancho Mirage as soon as we cover the Rancho Mirage area," Trimble noted.

New Resort Hotel Plans Announced

Plans were announced yesterday for construction of a $4,500,000, 200-room luxury resort hotel amidst the rolling sand dunes of Bermuda Dunes, new 1000-acre residential and golf club community near Palm Springs.

Bermuda Dunes' co-developers, Oilman Ray Ryan and Realtor Ernie Dunlevie said a syndicate headed by two Glendale residents Ralph T. Kettering, Jr., and Ben Parisi, Jr., and Los Angeles Attorney Daniel W. Gage has purchased 12 acres of land in the heart of Bermuda Dunes' 161-acre 18-hole championship golf course as a site for the new hotel. It will be one of the few hostleries in the nation completely encircled by a golf course.

dale, treasurer, Gage, secretary, and Ryan Dunlevie and William Reid, members of the board of directors.

Construction is expected to start within six months, with an opening date set for December, 1959.

THE STAR OF THE Desert will be the most modern hotel in the desert, it was stated. Luxurious private bungalows will dot the fairways along the 12 acre site. The hotel's 200 rooms will include kitchenette apartments and executive suites. Each accommodation will be completely equipped with TV and radio, have private patios and be served by the latest in air conditioning.

The Star of the Desert is especially designed for group business. In fact, developers said, it will be the only hotel in the entire desert area offering the convention a mixture of business with golf pleasure.

THE HOTEL, picturesquely named "Star of the Desert," will be operated by Kettering as president, Parisi, executive vice president, Marvin W. Reimer of Glen-

Nixon Holds Own With Oxford

LONDON (UP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon more than held his own today under the good natured ribbing of Oxford University students.

Nixon and his wife Pat drove the 60 miles from London this morning to visit with American and British students at one of the oldest universities in the world. It was their first trip away from London since they arrived Tuesday.

As the smiling, jovial Nixon obviously expected, the name of Gov.-elect Nelson Rockefeller of New York was as well known in the ivy-covered halls as in the United States.

There was a large banner outside the dining hall showing a cartoon of Nixon and Rockefeller climbing to the top of a crown worn by President Eisenhower. In large black letters were the words: "Is Rocky At The Top?"

Traffic Fatalities Near 150 Mark

United Press International A United Press International count at 10:30 a. m. (p.s.t.) showed at least 148 persons killed in traffic accidents since the holiday began at 6 p. m., Thanksgiving Eve.

Comments After Talk With Ike

Cites Darkening Background of Berlin Crisis

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)—Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said today after a long conference with President Eisenhower against the darkening background of the Berlin crisis that the administration would have a "pretty rough time" holding military spending in the next fiscal year to the present level of $40,800,000,000.

The President, McElroy and Budget Director Maurice H. Stans devoted most of the morning to conferences with a group of top defense officials, including the department's guided missile boss, William Holladay, working on the 1960 military budget.

FURTHER CONFERENCES with Eisenhower late next week in Washington will be necessary, according to McElroy, before a final figure can be approached.

The so-called working figure before the conferees today, based on estimates by the individual army services, was "substantially higher" than the amount Eisenhower intends to recommend to Congress.

McELROY SAID he did not think the necessary 1960 increase would be as much as two billion dollars higher than the spending figure for the present fiscal year which expires June 30.

"How about one billion increase?" he was asked. "I don't know," he replied. "Any figure I gave now would be premature."

DURING THE morning sessions at the Augusta National Golf Club, Stans also reported separately to the President on the overall budget preparations, saying he could cite "progress in the President's program to trim federal spending where possible in departments and agencies outside the national security and welfare field."

Adenauer Rejects Soviet Demand For 'Free' Berlin

United Press International The Western allies served notice today they would not relinquish their rights in West Berlin in the face of a Soviet near-ultimatum renouncing war-time occupation agreements and demanding the Big Three pull out of Berlin within six months. Adenauer rejected the Soviet proposals and said American, British and French troops would remain in West Berlin.

Social Security Changes Related By Field Chief

(This is the first of a series of articles designed to better acquaint Desert Sun readers with changes and revisions in the Federal Social Security program.—Editor.)

Several important alterations have been incorporated into the Federal Social Security program as a result of action taken in the last session of Congress.

Best-known and most far-reaching of these changes, according to Howard Nelson, field representative for the Social Security Administration's San Bernardino office, increases amount of benefit by an average of seven per cent.

"BENEFICIARIES DO not have to apply for this amount," Nelson said. "It will be added automatically."

He said the increase would show up in beneficiary checks to be mailed on Feb. 1, 1959.

Other changes, Nelson added, include payment qualification for dependents of persons who are now receiving disability insurance benefits, easing of work requirements for seriously disabled workers, and relaxation of the requirement that state industrial insurance payments had to be offset against the disability insurance benefits under U. S. social security.

BENEFIT RIGHTS have also been added for dependent parents whose son or daughter died after 1939 and who were prevented from qualifying for benefits because of a surviving widow, widower or child.

"A person receiving benefits who marries another person receiving benefits," Nelson pointed out, "may now continue to receive benefits or may have a new entitlement to payments." Such persons formerly had to wait for three years.

THE INCREASE in benefits brought about a need for increase in costs, Nelson said, and noted that tax rates for employers and employees rises to 2 1/2 per cent effective Jan. 1. Also increased, to 3 1/2 per cent, is the rate for self-employed persons.

Amount of earnings subject to social security annually will also be increased (to $4,800) in January he said.

8-POINT PLAN TELLS BROWN'S MODERATE PROGRESSIVENESS

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Second of six dispatches describing the legislative program of Governor-elect Edmund G. (Pat) Brown and the problems he faces in his new administration.)

By JAMES C. ANDERSON
SACRAMENTO — (UPI)—Just exactly what will Edmund G. (Pat) Brown do when he becomes governor next January? What does he stand for?

In the year he campaigned for governor, the 52-year-old Democrat made hundreds of speeches. Some dealt in generalities. Some were specific recommendations he promised he would make to the Legislature next year.

BUT THE HEART of his program for "moderate progressiveness" was contained in an eight-point program which he said repeatedly was the foundation for his goal of being a "bread and butter governor" for California.

This is the governor-elect's basic program:

1. Establish a department of economic development to bring new industries, new enterprises and jobs to California.

2. PROVIDE SMALL businesses with marketing data and other services which New York and other states now provide and which big businesses can afford.

but small firms cannot.

3. Appoint a public defender of the consumer interest to fight high prices, monopolistic pricing practices, loan sharks, hidden service charges, misleading installment contracts and high utility rates. Brown said he believed a woman should hold the position if the legislature created the office.

4. ENACT LEGISLATION to assure equal job opportunities for all Californians without regard to race, creed, color or age.

5. Reorganize the executive branch of state government for the first time in decades.

6. Assure labor-management peace by enactment of a 23-point labor reform program.

7. GIVE "PERSONAL leadership" to provide greater public support and greater public resources for public schools.

8. Give "vigorous and specific leadership" to meet California's water problems and to solve the flood threats in Northern California and water shortages in Central and Southern California.

In later speeches during the campaign, Brown amplified his eight-point program. After an attack by his Republican opponent for governor, U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland, Brown explained his proposal for a "public defender of the consumer interest" by saying:

"I URGE NO PRICE or wage controls of any kind for anybody. The primary job of my consumer counsel will be to assure that free enterprise stays genuinely free and competitive and that private collusions to control prices or rig markets are prevented."

As for his proposed department of economic development, he pledged that it should have "no regulatory or restraining functions."

But, Brown added, it should be a clearing house for information about California; it should be the contact point for out-of-state industry interested in moving to California; it should collect economic data about the state and analyze the economic impact of proposed legislation affecting business.

(Next: Governor-elect Brown's labor program.)

'Moral Offenders?'

Holidays Loose Madcap Drivers

By DOC QUIGG
NEW YORK (UPI)—Do you feel like a moral offender? One of the frightening aspects of the national traffic blood-letting that started last midnite and will continue through Sunday night is the lack of moral responsibility of the man behind the wheel.

This man, in many cases, is coming close to his animal nature—behaving crudely, callously, while shielded by the anonymity that automobile travel affords.

HOW TO MAKE him understand that he is morally responsible, as an individual, for his actions behind the wheel? The problem has been a stumper for the experts. A recent suggestion is that churches can help.

In a study of human behavior as a factor in traffic accidents, Dr. James L. Malfetti writes in the annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science that the high accident rate supports the view that the driving public is not safety conscious.

"IN EACH OF US is a desire for calculated risks of excitement," he says. "Our daily activities may provide little of this excitement and indeed may represent a series of minor frustrations with no immediate opportunity for outlet so that, consciously or not, we sometimes enjoy taking a little risk, such as speeding and cutting in and out of traffic."

The social deviate invites accidents—but the normal person looking for a "change of pace" makes the same type of driving errors.

"IT IS THE NORMAL driver taking an occasional risk, maybe his first, who causes most of the accidents today," Dr. Malfetti writes. "Unfortunately most fatal accidents are first accidents."

Opportunities, But ...

Only Hard Work to Fulfill Alaska's 'Wealth' Promise

By MARTIN HEERWALD
United Press International
JUNEAU, Alaska (UP) — Statehood is to Alaska what a coming out party is to a beautiful debutante.

Suddenly, the tomboy of the far north has become the belle of the ball, and if she wasn't so gosh-darned big, the rush of popularity would sweep her right out of her mukluks.

A record number of travelers visited Alaska during the past summer, and they couldn't help but say "wow" when they took a gander at her raw, rugged beauty and considered her incomparable dowry.

THE TERRITORIAL capital here, which will be the state capital when admission day is proclaimed in January, has a problem keeping up with the fan mail. Chambers of commerce at Anchorage and Fairbanks likewise are swamped.

OTHER INQUIRIES come from potential investors, large and small, and a lot of letters are from job seekers or prospective home-steaders who expect Alaska to work miracles for them.

Alaskans are happy to have you come looking for a job or land and they figure they can help you, but they warn: "Come with enough cash to take you back where you came from if you don't like it here or can't find what you're looking for."

When it comes to what Alaska has to offer, no state has ever joined the union with such an untapped treasure chest.

IN FACT, THERE isn't much you can't find in Alaska if it's mineral or metal. And surveys show the big north country has a potential hydroelectric power capacity equal to nearly two-thirds of the total for the entire nation.

But very little of Alaska's natural wealth is easy to get out. Most of it is locked securely in the earth, long and expensive distances from large and ready markets.

William Williams, 26, one of two charged with assault in the beating of Los Angeles woman here two weeks ago, has had his arraignment continued until 2 p.m. Thursday, in Indio Superior Court.

The court appointed Deputy Public Defender Frank Moore to represent Williams in the case and Moore asked for the continuance in order to acquaint himself with the case.

Williams and Donald G. Eldridge, 19, both of 168 East Via Es-cuela, were arrested on Nov. 12 after the woman reported to police that the pair had taken her to their private apartment "for a party" and had beaten her when she resisted their advances.

Lt. Robert White said that on the basis of "corroborating testimony from Williams and the woman, the charges against Eldridge have been dropped." Eldridge was released from custody, the officer said, and Williams is charged with only the assault.

Fern Scott Tells Of European Trip at Meeting

CATHEDRAL CITY — Members of the Desert Business and Professional Women's Club of Cathedral City enjoyed an interesting dinner meeting at the Pink Plum Restaurant in Palm Desert last week.

President Fern Scott, who recently returned from a three month tour of Europe, added to the interest of the colored slides taken in the 20 countries she visited, by relating the every day life, the customs and some of the strange laws in the smaller out of the way villages.

She described the narrow streets in the quaint little towns, the historical cathedrals and the scenic mountains and countryside. Mrs. Scott, accompanied by her sister, drove over 10,000 miles over the continent, England and Ireland. She presented her officers with perfume from Paris and to each member a handmade handkerchief.

Helene Pease was in charge of arrangements and was assisted by Mary Allree, Mabel Taylor, Arvelia Allred and Eudora Pace.

A FAREWELL testimonial in honor of Mormon Elder Edward Keith Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Stanley Smith, of Cathedral City, marked his departure for the Northern Mexican Mission of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. The youth will be gone for two years on the mission.

League Officers To Be Announced

New officers of the Animal Protective League of Palm Springs will be introduced when the League meets at 8:30 p. m., Monday, in Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Assn. offices here.

Members and persons interested in League activities are urged to attend the meeting. Entrance may be gained to the building by using the rear door at the parking lot. The meeting is to be held in the mezzanine on the third floor. The building is located at 383 South Palm Canyon Drive.

Limited Inspection

Soviet Geneva Delegate Seeks 'Open Sky' Plan

GENEVA (UPI)—Russia and its European satellites today proposed a limited ground and "open skies" inspection system to prevent surprise attacks.

The Red proposals—their first firm contribution in nearly three weeks of talks—were accompanied by their invariable demand for discussion of major political problems.

THE WESTERN powers have already rejected this demand on the ground that it would transform the conference on means of preventing surprise attacks into a propaganda circus.

Today's Red proposal came in two parts:

—A Russian "declaration . . . for the prevention of surprise attacks" presented to the conference by Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov. Communist sources said this amounted to a summary of the Russian stand which had deadlocked the conference.

—A SATELLITE "proposal . . . on the installation of control posts on land, other aerial inspection and on the simultaneous realization of certain measures in the field of disarmament to diminish the danger of surprise attacks," presented by Czech Deputy Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek for his country, Poland, Russia and Albania.

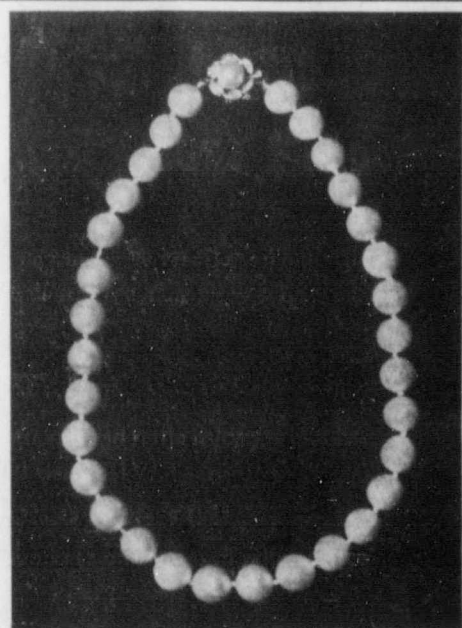

Odd Numbers

BOSTON—(UP)—A batch of $3 bills recently turned up in an old vault at the country courthouse. Investigation revealed that the bills had been used during a bank reorganization case in 1852 at a time when banks were authorized to issue their own scrip or currency.

COCKTAIL HOUR
At the Chi Chi

Western sources said the Communist proposals appeared at first glance to be "mostly political." They added, however, that both papers will be closely studied by Western experts even though there is no firm assurance that they represent any change in the Russian position.

The conference adjourned until Monday to allow time for study of the Red move.

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes to be wrong.

Millions In Taxes Could Be Saved To Area By Desert County

It costs more than $20,000,000 a year to operate the government of Riverside County.

Of this amount taxpayers in the ONE Supervisorial district composed of the vast desert area, pay close to $10,000,000 into the County treasury each year.

In return, desert taxpayers receive certain limited county services and facilities, probably not exceeding 10 or 15 percent of total County expenditures.

In terms of dollars this means that in the neighborhood of $7,000,000 per year of money collected by the County from property owners in the desert region is literally being "siphoned" across the mountains . . . never to come back.

A prime example is seen in the instance of the County welfare department and agencies which reportedly spent some $8,000,000 last year, of which more than $3,000,000 was supplied from taxes paid by desert landowners. Of the total welfare expenditure only about 10 percent of $800,000 was disbursed to people residing in the desert district. Tax "loss" to the desert on this item alone was more than $2,000,000.

This is just one, but a very sizeable way, in which existing taxes on all desert real estate could be appreciably reduced by formation of the long desired new Desert County.

It is also plain that much better service and more efficient County government generally would result from having a seat of government centrally located in the desert and much more convenient to everyone in the area.

There is not ONE single advantage in being a part of Riverside County. On the contrary there are many inequalities, handicaps and highly undesirable expenses, conflicting interests and insoluble obstacles.

Every one of these will worsen as time goes on, if the desert remains as a part of Riverside County.

For the four small and remote Riverside districts to attempt to manage or serve the fast growing and progressive desert region would be about like the original thirteen colonies having attempted to govern and tax the great remainder of the United States.

Creation of Desert County is a necessity of steadily mounting urgency.

What About Coalition? . . . 2

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Those who are most deeply distressed about the American Republic feel, I think, as Voltaire did about coming to the end of life.

While not afraid of total death, Voltaire dreaded to die, like a great tree, "at the top" — in short, he dreaded senility, insanity, loss of his magnificent intellectual powers.

WELL, THERE ARE men in public life today who feel that the offspring of the American Revolution, the strapping giant who sprang from the American Constitution, has lost his mind.

Dementia seems the only explanation for the annual demolition job which Presidential administrations and Congressional leaderships do upon our form of government, our economy, our sovereignty. It is not quite fair, I am coming to believe, to blame the present occupants of the White House and the House-Senate leaderships.

BOTH MR. EISENHOWER and Senator Johnson (I'm not so sure about Speaker Rayburn) have tried a little to dam the lunatic floods. From whence do these high-waters flow? Alas, from the madness that seems to possess the one-time wonder of the world, the people of this nation. And if there is a cure, it lies in finding sane leadership which may rally the wandering wits of the American people.

All the foregoing is a cumbersome preface to the subject of conservative coalition. This is a movement struggling to be born next month in Congress. But the difficulties are great. Yesterday in this place, a Southern Intellectual and stalwart, Senator Sam Ervin, Jr., of North Carolina, was good enough to explain why the Democratic South will be slow to join a coalition with the Republican conservatives. On the Republican side there is an equal, but different reluctance.

BACK IN THE 84TH Congress, Second Session, a significant division occurred in the House concerning a bill for Federal aid to rural library service (H.R. 2640). Here was a measure with some clear-cut edges. It did not have the dull excuses of "emergency" or "humanitarian" or "national defense" or "liberalism." Nobody in Congress is against books, but should the Federal government provide this service? Should the gross bureaucracy called Department of Health-Education-Welfare hire more girls in spectacles to fill up more floor space? Should the HEW Secretary be given still more Big Brotherly powers called "counseling" and "guidance" over people's reading habits? Should the socialistic system of soak-the-rich be applied here, in soaking the rich States to as to equalize them with the poor States?

THE MOST INTERESTING opponents of that dispute in 1956 were not liberals vs. conservatives. They were Republican conservatives vs. Southern conservatives. I have in mind, Rep. Ralph Gwinn (N.Y.) vs. Rep. Graham Barden (N.C.) Gwinn opposed the rural library service bill as another power-grab by the welfare statist of both parties. Barden supported the bill, as he has supported other "education" aids from Washington, because it would bring Federal dollars into his District.

You cannot find a more telling example of why a conservative coalition is difficult. It is difficult because too many political fencers are for economy—in the other fellow's State and District. It is difficult because, as GOP conservatives will tell you off the record, too many Southerners are for States' Rights only in matters of racial relations. On most other matters, the Yankee dollar is welcome, along with the inevitable Federal control.

MR. GWINN, who voluntarily surrendered his seat at the past election, tells me that the fault is not only with the Southerners but with all conservatives who open their palms for aid. The peppy battler from Bronxville, N.Y., says:

"We are all being corrupted by the Federal Government. The welfare state is unconstitutional, immoral and should be illegal. No coalition will get anywhere until conservatives are willing to limit Federal taxation to needful purposes and to end the corruption."

To be corrupted by a government of our own making? Well, how much crazier can a country get? Holmes Alexander.

Somebody Is Going to Get Saddle Sore

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

Yesterday so pretty
Before the dinner dash,
Today just cold pickings,
And tomorrow—hash.

Anybody here for tums?

WELL, THAT'S over. Now starts the hectic Christmas rush. Just four weeks off and pretty quick it's going to be too late to do your Christmas shopping early.

THEY TELL ME that at the bazaar at St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church they had a little unscheduled excitement which almost ruined their luncheon preparations.

The ladies had spread the table covers, but, fortunately that's as far as they had gone when one of the gentlemen gallantly volunteered to open a small keg of old pickles.

WHAT HE DIDN'T know was that it was pressurized.

As he applied his muscle, there was a sudden rush of vinegar. It didn't just run out. It squirted and squirted.

After the gentleman in question had gone home to change, the ladies got busy, reset the tables, aired the place so that there was no remembrance to a vinegar factory and nobody knew the difference.

PARDON ME for mentioning Jo-Jo again. He's getting more publicity now than John Foster Dulles or Harry Oliver.

But, you know, The Desert Sun gets around. A San Franciscan who visits here frequently and reads The Sun regularly to keep in touch with the desert, saw that last week about Jo-Jo's credit account at Mills.

And forthwith sent a small donation to Jo-Jo's beef jerky fund to Marge.

COMMUNITY Clean-Up, "Pride and Shine Week," gets under way next Monday.

That week belongs to everyone in Palm Springs and everyone should take a hand. Not just on home premises and lots but on the sidewalks and streets as well.

Early the other morning in the 100 block on Palm Canyon Drive, about in front of the Bank of America, I noted a bit of thoughtlessness that, had there been a telephone handy, I would have dialed the police. But it was too early, no stores open.

THIS UNCOUTH character, after reading a pamphlet, instead of walking ten feet to one of those "Keep Your City Beautiful" receptacles, stopped and tore the pages into small pieces. Then scattered them as he walked down the sidewalk.

He had no pride—but should have had a shiner.

PEOPLE ARE SO absent-minded. Like the man I heard about the other day.

About to be a father, his wife informed him that the stork was zooming down on the house. This man set a new record in driving to the hospital about five miles distant. He got there all right, and suddenly realized he had forgotten to bring his expectant wife.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

The silver stars and the gold angels are up over our main street again.

In the early, chill dark of evening, the store windows glow with bright promise. Clear, electronic music pours smoothly into the night sky.

WELL, WE ALL went down the other night to see what Santa Claus has in his foxy pocket this year. (Santa Claus will take your Diner's Club card—that is one thing I found out.)

Nearly all the things we want for Christmas run on batteries. This is pretty bad. Because when we are through running such toys we never shut off the switch.

ALSO, NEARLY ALL these toys come apart. If they do not come apart easily, you can hack them apart with an ax. Or a screwdriver. Or beat them on a brick.

I would like to find some toys that you cannot take apart. But find that the cunning manufacturers are not inclined to build such things.

What they build is child's play to take apart. That is a good way to put it, I think.

AS I REMEMBER the toy trains and toy automobiles and toy steamshovels of yesteryear, they required a whole lot of imagination.

We pushed them around. Crying: "Toot! Toot! New York Central. All aboard!" I do not mean electric trains. I had those, too. But we did not get to play with them. Only our uncle who bought it for us got to play with it.

WELL, THERE IS NOTHING you have to push this year.

All the cars and shovels are powered. They run in circles or in squares. You set a thing on the bottom to show them how to run.

The cannon are mounted on trucks that run. And the cannon will swing in circles and shoot marbles. It is truly a wonderful world.

And Christmas coming, coming. Just around the bend.

YOU CAN LOOK at these things on the counter. But you cannot touch them. (Shows how little things have changed in THAT way.)

All the time you are itching to take the top off and see what makes it run. But if you so much as lay a pinkie on things, your family hollers:

"PUT IT DOWN!"

On the other hand, your father is always picking something up. He picks it up and puts it on the floor and runs it around in circles.

HE SAYS: "Boy, look at it go, will you?"

Then a store lady comes around and says: "Could I show you something?"

Your father says: "We are just looking, thank you."

Then he grabs your hand and pulls you off to another part of the store.

He says: "You see? I told you not to play with the toys."

THE BEST WAY to take small boys shopping is window shopping. There is nothing like seeing things behind a pane of plate glass. With the glass gradually clouding as you breathe on it. And all the things inside getting dimmer—but more attractive too.

It is colder outside on the street. I think a bit of chilly weather helps.

A cold evening with a single bright star in the sky. And the Salvation Army lady ringing her silver bell. And the Santa Claus on the corner with the paper-brick chimney you drop money in.

WITH A WOOLEN muffler under the chin and a cap that is furry inside and pulls down over the ears.

All the shining windows full of stuffed animals that move in time with the music. And toy trains running in and out of tunnels and the track lights flashing on and off.

And Christmas coming, coming. Just around the bend.

EARL WILSON:

Miami's Head Unturned

Miami — I'd heard that Miami had gone so Hollywood since Frank Sinatra brought a movie company here that Florida now had smog and crazy drivers.

A falsehood. The air's cleaner than a tourist after two weeks gambling in Las Vegas, and the drivers are so courteous they say "Pardon me" before they run over you.

Miami is a teen-age girl. She's lovely, with sunshine and fresh air in her hair. . . she's drinking her home-grown orange juice and growing too big for her skirts and sweaters and bras. . . her richest years lie ahead; she'll bloom into a beautiful, exciting woman about whom sagas and symphonies can be written.

That's how I feel about "America's Fastest Growing City"—and the Chamber of Commerce didn't even know.

Today Hollywood's everywhere but Hollywood—on Miami Beach's sunny streets a hundred suntanned faces strained forward, watching Sinatra, Edward G. Robinson, Eleanor Parker, Keenan Wynn and Carolyn Jones shoot "A Hole in the Head."

A meek little red-haired boy of 10 sat on the porch of a motel on Motel Row. Eddie Hodges, of "The Music Man," had come down from Broadway with his daddy, mommy and tutor to make his movie debut.

"Did you lose any freckles here?" TV comic George de Witt (a cab driver in the film) asked him and he politely answered, "No, I gained two."

In future years when he's a big star (he's going to Hollywood to do a TV pilot film with Sam Levene and Gregory Ratoff for CBS), Eddie'll remember studying up in that motel room, then hopping down to do his scenes—while patient cops held back impatient people wanting to touch the celebrities.

Sinatra swung me around by the arm as I came near and said: "Get into the limousine, Charlie."

I sat between him and Eleanor Parker as the chauffeur drove us to a cafeteria, for their next scene — where another crowd was waiting.

ready," Sinatra said, gazing out at the people.

"Yes, you'd get killed out there. It must be rough for you, Frank, dodging crowds for 15 or 20 years," Miss Parker added.

"Let's sit in the car till they're 'Oh, all they can do is look,' Frank shrugged. "Except those that do this to you" — and he impersonated the "sleeve grabbers."

That's why Frank gets nervous on location, one reason he was going the unusual: taking a Hollywood company to Hollywood. They were going back a week ahead of schedule and saving $500,000.

I found Miami very little affected; the city had remained itself. They were swimming here. . . there was snow in California. Soon the Diplomat, "this year's hotel," will be opening. The Fontainebleau is enlarging. Leo Durocher, Swifty Morgan and such notables were swallowed up by convention delegates. Miami was swinging.

Comedian Sammy Walsh told me a story that spoke of Florida virility — a 72-year-old burglar, sentenced to 10 years here, protested to the judge that he probably couldn't serve it because he wouldn't live that long.

Smiling, the judge softly said, "Just do the best you can."

They have kept their sense of humor here. At the airport I met a plane pilot (Capt. Jim Speer) who says on the takeoff, "Ladies and gentlemen, just sit back and relax. You've had the most hazardous part of your trip already — the ride by taxicab to the airport."

Wish I'd Said That: Some women talk their way out of anything — except a telephone booth.

Today's Best Laugh: Joey Adams brushed off a heckler with: "He couldn't keep up the payments on his brain, and the finance company took it."

Herman Henry Ruder of Long Beach tells of the lish who's trying to quit drinking. As a starter he's using smaller ice cubes. That's earl, brother.

Columbia Seeks Unknown

HOLLYWOOD — Columbia wasn't kidding when the studio steersmen said they'd seek an unknown to place Kim Novak in "Beach Boys" (Kim didn't like the loose-lady part and lammed out of it). This week they're screening Jo Morrow, orchestra leader Dick Stabile's steady, to fill the Novakuum.

MGM is using its TV arm to screenest young hopefuls. If Susan Cummings comes out okay in one of MGM-TV's Thin Man segments, she'll be the cutie Glenn Ford and Red Buttons battle for in "Bonjour Pardon."

JANE WITHERS is de-moth-balling her collection of 3,700 dolls—almost as many as Shirley Temple collected when she and Jane were movie playmates—for a Yuletide exhibit at Pacific Ocean Park.

Tennessee Ernie Ford's independent movie producing company has been incorporated as BriBuck, Inc., after his sons, Brian and Buck.

First George Englund pulled out, then Stanley Kubrick, and now Karl Malden—all as directors of Marlon Brando's first independent movie, "One-Eyed Jacks." Malden has been on salary for the Paramount-financed project since Oct. 1 and there's still no script and no starting date—with $600,000 down the drain before a single camera has turned! Now there's talk that Brando may direct the Western (in addition to starring in it) himself.

GUY-TO-GAL GAB on the Goldwyn lot: "It's sure lucky you're a girl—a shape like yours would look ridiculous on a man!"

The critics clobbered it but Joan Blondell (who co-stars in the Hartford Theatre show with Talulah Bankhead) says "Crazy October," is worth seeing if only for the satisfaction of saying, "How DARE they!"

John Wayne and Bill Holden insisted that the "No Visitors" signs be removed from their Louisiana location with "The Horse Soldiers"—but now those thousands of visitors have cost the company over $50,000 in interrupted scenes and spoiled takes.

GLORIA SWANSON looked only slightly older than some of the "Deb Stars" on Bob Hope's last NBCClambake—and not one of the dolls was even born when Gloria was slugging it out with Pola Negri for the Queen of the Silent Screen throne at Paramount.

Tony Curtis and Kirk Douglas were the finalists in the annual scramble for the Hollywood Women's Press Club "Golden Apple Award" for the actor who proves most cooperative of the year with the press Rivals or not, Kirk was one of the few stars on hand at Hillside Memorial Park to bolster Tony through the funeral rites for his father, Manuel Schwartz.

FEMME FINALISTS for the "Apple" awards (the name of the prize has something to do with that old American custom, apple-polishing): Dinah Shore and Jean Simmons.

Strangest, most sacreligious sight of the week in LA: the theatre marquee for "Home Before Dark" (with a blowup of Jean Simmons outside the theatre exclaiming, "In the dark I didn't know you were my husband"—on a double-feature bill with "The Coronation of the Pope").

CHANNEL CHATTER—Proving the power of TV, Bill Burrud announced a treasure hunt at Corralville, Calif., on his local show and inside of 45 minutes 16,000 TV viewers swooped down and dug up all the treasures.

KTLA'S new "Telecopter" covered four fast-breaking news stories in Los Angeles from the air in a three-and-a-half hour period: a brush fire in the Woodland Hills area at 1:28 p.m., the recovery of Tom Pittman's body from his Benedict Canyon auto accident at 1:43 p.m., another fire in the Santa Susana area at 2:51 p.m., and the crash of a Marine plane into a Santa Fe train near El Toro Marine Base at 4:30 p.m.

LYNN BARI took time off from her child custody squabble with Sid Luft to sign for a top role opposite Robert Loggia in the new Walt Disney series, "The Nine Lives of Elifego Baca" . . . Robert Morse of Hollywood's "The Matchmaker" and Broadway's "Say, Darling" signed for a new Wally Cox-type series to be titled Willie, with ex-Jack Benny producer Ralph Levy in charge.

To get back to KTLA's high-flying helicopter news photos, LA telestations are discovering — just as most newspapers discovered long, long ago — that their ratings soar when their newscasters bypass national or world-wide news in favor of local happenings.

KEENAN WYNN stepped in and rescued his father's crew when Ed Wynn shot the last segment of his doomed Screen Gems series. The same technicians moved over to Keenan's set to shoot the Junior Wynn's show for Alcoa-Goodyear.

Larry Harmon's new Bozo the Clown series will get its tryout here. The show's first exposure in the U. S. starts on a local station Jan. 5 . . . Audrey Totter and John Smith are sore over their new series—and threatening to quit!—because they claim co-star George Montgomery is getting all the best dialogue.

Note from Col. Tom Parker, Sir Swivel-Hips' manager: "I'm killing time till Elvis gets out of the Army killing hogs on my Tennessee ranch."

How many "vitamin pills" per bottle?

Some vitamin preparations seem like bargains. Lots of capsules per dollar. But that's not the way medications should be measured. The true measure is potency—how much active, beneficial ingredient per dollar. When you measure this way, you will find that the real "bargains" are in your registered pharmacy. Before you buy vitamin preparations from a nonprofessional source, check with your physician. It pays.

Atomic Power Unit Revealed By Caletric

Atomic Electricity Possible Via New Plant, Says Ernst

California Electric Power Co. has joined with over 50 other investor-owned utility companies in the United States to support development and construction of the first of a new type high performance nuclear power plant providing a major short cut to the nation's goal of economic electricity from the atom, Carl C. Ernst, Caletric president, announced today.

Proposal to build the new plant, superior in efficiency and operation to any of the existing low-temperature atomic power plants, was submitted to the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington by the Philadelphia Electric Co. and the member companies of an organization known as High Temperature Reactor Development Associates. Caletric is a member of this group.

THE PROTOTYPE plant which the utilities propose to build will have a design capacity of 40,000 kilowatts. It will contain a high temperature, helium gas-cooled, graphite-moderated reactor system conceived by the General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corp. The system has been under intensive theoretical and experimental development with private funds at General Atomic's John Ray Hopkins Laboratory in La Jolla over the past two years.

Caletric, and seven other utilities comprising the Rocky Mountain - Pacific Nuclear Research Group, participated in the financing of the General Atomic Research.

ERNST PRAISED General Atomic for its research leading to the announcement.

"The scientific pioneering done by General Atomic has made this project possible and the success and speed with which research was carried out is a tribute to the company and its staff of highly trained engineers and scientists," Ernst said.

The proposal, filed in Washington with the AEC, was submitted in response to the Commission's Sept. 12 invitations to industry to undertake the building of such a plant.

THE PLANT WILL be built and operated on the system of the Philadelphia Electric Co.

JAMES M. UDALL, Encino realtor and a winter resident at Rancho Mirage, drew a warm hand-clasp from Palm Springs realtor Peter Sheptenko, shortly after Udall's arrival here. Udall was elected president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at its 51st convention, held recently in San Francisco.

Gardening in the Desert

Evidently aphids are beginning to come around again. We would advise the amateur gardener to closely scrutinize all his plants on which aphids rely for their nutrition and lifeline. It would be well to use a hose-spray which, at the nozzle, can eject the spray upwards or downwards thereby covering all parts of the plant.

You will find the most effective mixture in bottles which contain Malathion, Lindane, and D.D.T. We have, in previous editions of Gardening In The Desert, dealt with aphids and other pests so if you too have spotted them, go ahead with your insecticide and help the tender plants to produce their best.

NOW THAT YOUR lawn is coming along to your satisfaction you might appreciate a few delayed pointers on grass culture. In our desert the average householder is satisfied to have a green lawn from October until the following

June when Old Sol's scorching rays burn up the soil and there'll be no lawn until the next October.

If you have raised a dichondra lawn well, that's another story. There are in this neighborhood quite a few lawns that contain rye and bermuda; however, with the amount of water used in irrigation, the hot summer weather and vacation time it becomes expensive for the average amateur gardener.

A COMBINATION of dichondra and bermuda is also ineffective, from both the monetary viewpoint and the fact that the bermuda gradually kills the dichondra and in three to four years there is only bermuda. A glance at the present lawn in Palm Springs Center plainly denotes that even the most expert desert gardener cannot make the bermuda give the dichondra a chance to exist.

To those who have at last found time to plant a lawn of their own we would advise them not to seek a supposed bargain in lawn seed. Go to your nurseryman; pick out the one who has had the longest continual desert experience. He will explain the quality of the different seeds, explain the table of analysis the freedom from crop and weed seeds, and the rate of germination.

ONE WHOLESALER of grass seed even claims his product to be 99.91 per cent weed free. Before mixing a composted humus or manure with your soil satisfy yourself it is free of weed seed. All this would save you trouble later.

Jumping from pests and lawns to climbing roses here are a few hints on choice planting, growth, location, pruning, etc. The climbing rose has long canes, five times longer than those of the average rose bush. Unless you carefully watch their growth you may one day have an overwhelming number of canes that make it difficult for you to control the growth in the direction you originally intended.

The true climber is mostly apt to bloom twice a year with the new canes replacing the old canes that no longer bloom. In comparison to new canes of the ordinary rosebush a climber cane takes four times longer to grow. When you

WHEN CHARLES FARRELL hosted his annual Invitational Tennis Tournament recently, Pasadena's Hugh Stewart, nationally ranked amateur tennis player, entered the competition and brought his Swedish bride, Nita, along to enjoy the Palm Springs environment with him. The three are shown—between sets—at the Racquet Club where the tournament was held.

S.C., Notre Dame Meet in Season Finale in I.A.

LOS ANGELES—Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, who haven't been as potent as usual in their 1958 gridiron outings, arrived here yesterday to help USC put the finishing touches on the regular football season in Memorial Coliseum tomorrow.

Sammy Snead's Golfing Gets 'Voodoo' in Mexico

By OSCAR FRALEY
TAXCO, Mexico — (UPI) — Medical authorities in the United States may be confused today at the status of Sam Snead's ailing back but now it can be told what happened to the slammer from the West Virginia hills.

Sam is a voodoo victim. It seems that during the International Trophy golf matches, Snead wasn't exactly what you might call the most cooperative man on the premises. At one point, when a Mexican newspaperman approached and asked him whether he was Sam Snead, he curtly replied "no" and turned and walked away.

But he monkeyed with the wrong customers when he told off two photographers from Torreon, which is in the canyon and desert country of northern Mexico. They didn't take it sitting down.

The story of their reaction—and action—was related to me by Senor Antonio Castillo at his picturesque hotel Los Arcos in this mountainside silver town, where even the goats have to wear rubber soled shoes. It is a tale which is currently the talk of Mexico.

"Those two photographers were Tarahumara Indians," explained the ever-smiling Senor Castillo. "Now, you must understand that these are a very primitive people still in a country which is as it has been for a thousand years. They are a very proud people, for all of that," he added, "and make very strong medicine called perote out of a special kind of cactus. It is a stimulant and makes them very strong."

Senor Castillo looked up at a large red and green parrot basking in the sun at the top of a Jacaranda tree in the patio of his hotel and smiled again.

"The two men Snead what you say, 'told off,' for taking pictures during a practice round were of these very proud Tarahumaras," he continued. "So that night, while having their dinner and possibly a little bit of the perote, or maybe simply something like tequila, they made up a little doll image of the Mister Snead."

PATRONS AT THE Tennis Club here get a daily eyeful of Bill Davis, a man regarded as one of America's most promising court hopefuls when he was a student at the University of Tennessee. Activities start at the Tennis Club Friday evening.

TENNIS CLUB HAS DAVIS AS NEW PRO

For three consecutive years back in the early 1950's, University of Tennessee tennis giant Bill Davis won the Southeastern Conference singles crown.

In fact, the sign of relief that went up in the other schools of the conference when Davis graduated was so audible you could almost hear it north of the Mason-Dixon line.

YOU CAN HEAR sighs in the Village now each time the angular Southerner takes to the courts in his new role as pro for the Palm Springs Tennis Club.

Bill, rated the No. 4 college tennis player during his stay at the Volunteer campus drew the cheers here on the recommendation of Perry Jones. Prior to leaving for Negro Question Halts Basketball In Charlotte, N.C.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — (UPI) — A dispute over treatment of Negro professional basketball players in this Southern city has, for the moment, clouded the future of pro basketball games at the Charlotte Coliseum.

National Basketball Assn. teams normally play one game here each season, but the contracts are on a year to year basis. Contracts for next year's games have not been signed, according to Paul Buck, Coliseum manager.

Executives of two NBA clubs, the Boston Celtics and the Minneapolis Lakers, said they were angry over the treatment Negro players received here for a game Monday night.

State Moves to Cut Tax Exemptions for Veterans

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The possibility loomed today that three out of every four war veterans in California may lose property tax exemptions if an Assembly subcommittee presses for a constitutional change in tax law.

Such a possibility was disclosed this week at a hearing of the Subcommittee on Veteran Taxation, headed by Sen. Luther E. Gibson (R-Vallejo).

GIBSON SAID the subcommittee might propose a constitutional amendment changing property tax laws which now allow a married veteran $10,000 exemption if the value of his property does not exceed $10,000.

Under the subcommittee's proposal, the exemption would be cut to veterans with property worth $5,000 or less.

Dugald Gullies, subcommittee consultant, said the $5,000 level would eliminate an average $60 yearly tax exemptions for 75 percent of California's million veterans.

ALTHOUGH VETERANS seem to save money by the exemption, they really don't in the long run, according to Gibson. He said that the tax rate in communities with a high percentage of veterans simply has to be increased to pay for services.

Other tax law changes which the subcommittee may propose would: —Provide that a veteran must have served at least 90 days in the armed forces to be eligible for property tax exemption.

One person may now register for self or entire family under the plan of funeral insurance. Cost only a few cents a day, in time of need regardless of how little has been paid, the plan pays the funeral bill. For example, a complete funeral was paid for recently when only $4.58 had been paid. Issued by an admitted legal reserve insurer. Good in Palm Springs or at any Funeral Chapel in United States. sure. Its banquet and convention facilities, with a planned capacity of 750 persons, will be within easy walking distance of Bermuda Dunes Country Club's first tee.

AFTER HIS BUSINESS meetings and round of golf, the convention will be able to enjoy the hotel's dining room, boasting a capacity of 350 persons and the adjoining cocktail lounge built to comfortably serve 150 persons.

The hotel's architectural design is completely revolutionary for the desert. It will feature tri-level construction, utilizing the dunes' striking scenic vantage points. Among other exciting effects, a sky-room atmosphere will be imparted to the dining room and lounge on the upper level.

BESIDES ENJOYING the sweeping view of mountain and desert vistas, diners and cocktail party-goers will have a commanding view of the serpentine swimming pool and poolside patio below. The patio will be utilized for outdoor social events, including Saturday and Sunday night cocktail dancing.

Adjacent to the swimming pool will be some guest rooms, and a shopping area consisting of men's and women's apparel shops, jewelry salon, pharmacy and a gift shop.

The second level will house several stores, including a barber shop and beauty salon. Men's and women's bath facilities also will be available there.

The third level will be confined to guest rooms and apartments.

New Policy

Membership on Boards Denied to Any Councilman

Two City Council members were virtually pulled off the planning commission and variance board this week by order of the council. Council members voted four-to-three to approve a new city policy eliminating councilmen from membership on the City Planning Commission and variance board.

THE ACTION, part of a three-point amendment to qualifications for membership on city boards and commissions, pulled Councilman Ted McKinney from his commission post and John Wood from his variance board seat. McKinney, Wood and Councilwoman Ruth Hardy voted against proposal to restrict councilmanic representation on either of the two city agencies.

OTHER AMENDMENTS approved by the council involved the requirement that all members of the variance board and planning commission must be registered voters and a provision concerning the dismissal of absentees from all boards and commissions. The absentee provision stipulates that any board or commission member absent more than four times a year from regular meetings shall be dropped from the organization.

A fourth proposal, rejected by a four-to-three vote, stated that persons other than City Council members could serve on either the planning commission or variance board, but could not belong to both.

MEISELMAN HALTS PROJECT DUE TO SEWER LINE POLICY

Village home builder Jack Meiselman today said he plans to halt construction on his new Chino Palms Estates because of city sewer line policies.

Meiselman, who planned to start construction Monday on the 45-home project, was asked by the city to install a sewage pump on one line tying in with sewer mains.

CITY COUNCIL members approved the subdivision plans Tuesday night, but stipulated that Meiselman must put in sewer lines and must install a pump on one section without gravity flow. The prominent Palm Springs builder an alternative of capping the line involved for future tie-in with city mains and installing cess pools in the interim, city officials said.

MEISELMAN SAID he would halt construction if he was required to install the sewage pump on the line in question. This section runs uphill on one street in the development.

City planners estimated that the sewage pump would cost about $3,000.

Meiselman had planned to build 45, three-bedroom homes in the area located at Via Miraleste, off Vista Chino.

Rites Set Friday for Two Victims of Traffic Tragedy

Funeral services for Albert Philip and Louise Marie Bree, two victims in the Nov. 8 traffic accident at Highway 99 and Ramon Road, near Palm Springs, will be held at 9 a.m., Friday, in the Church of the Transfiguration in Los Angeles.

The pair, two of three people who died in the highway mishap, had rosary said for them at 7:30 p.m., last night.

A former employee of North American Aviation Corp., Bree and his wife had been in Palm Springs only two days when the accident occurred. Both were natives of France and Mrs. Bree is survived by a brother and sister, both living in France.

The funeral is under the direction of Wiefels and Son Mortuary. Interment is to follow at Holy Cross Cemetery in Los Angeles.

Customs Agents Had the 'Luck'

LONDON, (UPI) — Norman Allin, 34, hid cigarettes in packages to relatives here on his return to Britain from the United States for a vacation. His goal—to make sure he'd have enough of his favorite brand.

In one package, Allin wrote: "To H. M. Customs: If you find this, the best of luck." Customs agents were lucky. Allin was fined $56.

This Friday in late November... the very day after Thanksgiving... the day that two or three Girl Fridays would be a practical gift... Today was the WAIF luncheon at the Tennis Club... a first get-together for this group which is very social as well as very philanthropic... Tonight there will be bright lights and a red carpet out in the Village Green as Zsa Zsa and Eva Gabor help their mother Jolie officially open her Palm Springs shop of fabulous costume jewelry... with many celebrities present... The invitational Signorini exhibit is at the Tennis Club tonight... and after that we go on to El Mirador for the dinner party being hosted by the Frank Loyds...

The Village Green has taken on real charm this year... and while Jolie is bringing the Place Vendome effect... Madalyn Fio Rito is just as definitely adding a Wilshire Boulevard touch... and Larry LeRouge the Hollywood bit... and it is adding excitement to the holiday season... especially with the Mary Noel line adding the bright Christmas touch.

The George Barretts entertained distinguished guests at Thanksgiving Day dinner at their home on Driftwood Drive... Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carpenter (he's secretary of State of Illinois)... Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ellis (newspaper publisher of Moline, Illinois) and Bill Bogges.

The Carpenters and Ellises are occupying the Charlie Beckers' guest house on San Lorenzo Road.

The Charles Beckers had a family gathering at their home on Palos Verdes yesterday... Their daughter Jacquie Cole who is with them this winter... and her two sons King and Tommy, who were here from St. Catherine's Military Academy in Anaheim...

Also here were the Charles Bakkers (another daughter) and their children Wendy and Jeffery... who drove over from Riverside.

The Don Jernigans of Cerritos Drive spent Thanksgiving Day in Newport Beach... with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holister...

Here to spend Thanksgiving in their Via Lola home were the Kirk Douglases... who will be here for three weeks... With them are their two sons... three-year-old Peter Vincent and the baby five-months-old Eric Anthony...

Douglas recently returned from England... where he just completed the picture "The Devil's Disciples" with Burt Lancaster and Sir Laurence Olivier...

His next production will be "Spartacus"... which starts in January and will be made by his own company Bryna Productions... Olivier will be with him again in this one... along with Charles Laughton and Peter Ustinov...

For those of you who are missing Ray Ryan... A postcard came from him from Paris the other day... with the comment that he sure misses Palm Springs.

Startling in the Thanksgiving mail... was the Santa Claus card with the Christmas spirit... that is an invitation to the holiday cocktail pouring...

Oasis Draw Traditional Family Thanksgiving Dinner Group

Thanksgiving gatherings at the Oasis family are traditional. Many families have been returning there each year for many, many years. One such family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Johnstone, of Santa Barbara, preceded their large family and have been vacationing over a week. The two were joined for the Thanksgiving holiday weekend by Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Johnstone Jr., and their children, making a party of seven.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Schumaker and their two teen age daughters arrived from San Marino. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheldon and children of Arcadia are there. Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Ballantine and family, of Kentfield, Calif., ate their turkey dinner in the Golden Terrace dining room of the Oasis.

Two couples who arrived together are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson, of Los Angeles, with the George K. Wursters, of Sacramento. Mr. and Mrs. R. T. McInerney and family of San Pedro, admit they have been trying for five years to get into the Oasis at Thanksgiving, and this year sent their reservation so far in advance they made it.

Another family arriving together were Mr. and Mrs. Walter West with their son and family, the Lawrence Wests and two children, all of Santa Ana. A fivesome meeting to celebrate Thanksgiving together were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gaetke and daughter of San Francisco with Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Trinkus, Los Angeles. A Beverly Hills foursome arriving together included Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Troup with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert N. Peters. Dr. and Mrs. Harold H. Groth of Sherman Oaks arrived early in the week and were joined by their son, who came from San Francisco.

David Heyler, owner and columnist of his Beverly Hills paper, with Mrs. Heyler, returned for one of their many annual stays at the Oasis. They will remain through December 7th. Arriving for Thanksgiving and staying through Christmas were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stephens, of Newport Beach.

Coming up from San Diego for a few days rest were Judge and Mrs. Bonsall Noon.

Dewey W. Metzdorf, general manager of Oasis hotel, whose duties have kept him in Los Angeles all season, joined his "croquet cronies" this weekend while holidaying at Oasis. Metzdorf is dividing his time between the Oasis and Mayfair hotel in Los Angeles, where he has his office and oversees the Caravan Lodge chain which is being built all through California.

Television Actor Vacations Here

Signorini to Exhibit Here This Weekend

Invitations are out for a private showing of the gold and silver statuettes by the noted Italian sculptor Renato Signorini, to be held in the Venetian Room at the Tennis Club this evening, from 6 to 8. Often called the Cellini of the 20th Century Signorini has revived the exquisite workmanship with precious materials that came to a peak during the Renaissance.

Some 40 pieces of his work will be displayed including the two foot statuette of Queen Elizabeth II, seated on her throne in her royal robes and wearing a jeweled crown, cast in silver and 24-carat gold. This one piece has been valued at $100,000.

Most of the pieces to be shown are superbly modeled gold busts and figurines in miniature, including those of actress Audrey Hepburn. Precious jewels ornament the statuettes.

Signorini's work, which has been shown in Tiffanys in New York, comes here from Los Angeles, where over 200 viewed the display in the Junior League Club in the Beverly Hills Hotel. From Palm Springs the collection will be shipped back to Rome.

In addition to the invitational showing, the exhibit will be open to Tennis Club members on Saturday, Mrs. Austin McManus said today.

POPE PIUS XII, sculptured in gold, set with precious stones, is in the Renato Signorini collection that will be shown at the Tennis Club this weekend. Royal figures like Queen Elizabeth II and Queen Saroya are also in the collection, which will be sent back to Rome after its Palm Springs showing. Signorini will accompany the exhibit to Palm Springs. (Vasari-Roma)

THE VILLAGE GREEN looks like a Place Vendôme with the opening of three new shops here this week. Included in the "new look" at the Green are Jolie Gabor's Pearl Salon, the Italian Imports Shop operated by Madelyn Fio Rito, and LeRouge Interior Designs, directed by Larry LeRouge. The three new internationally-famed shops join Marge Riley's Western Wear store, which has been a fixture at the McManus Village Green since 1958. (Desert Sun Photo)

Continental Charm Now Added To Village Green by New Shops

Three new shops with international flavor opened this week on the McManus Village Green here, bringing a continental charm to Palm Springs. Included are a Pearl Salon, under the aegis of Jolie Gabor; an Italian Imports Shop, operated by Madelyn Fio Rito, and LeRouge Interior Designs, under the direction of Larry LeRouge.

The new threesome join Marge Riley's Western Wear store, which has had the Village Green all to itself since 1948. Arrival of the three shops has also wrought a "new look" to the Western Wear shop.

Jolie Gabor, mother of film beauties Zsa Zsa, Eva and Magda Gabor, installed a handsome gateway to her shop, a key note she has utilized in her other stores.

Sportswear, evening wear, coats and accessories — all aimed at the discriminating feminine shopper — abound in Madelyn Fio Rito's Italian Imports shop. She has added the Palm Springs store to a list of shops that includes locations in Rome, Italy, New York and Hollywood.

LeRouge, who executed the decoration of the Fio Rito shop as Noel, whose annual excursions in well as his own, is displaying to yuletide trappings are always Christmas decorations by Mary anticipated eagerly here.

Water Storage Hearing Set by Senate Group

A hearing on water storage problems by the Senate Interim Committee on Proposed Water Projects—originally recommended for Palm Springs—will be held at the University of California's Riverside campus on Dec. 15-16. State Senator Stephen P. Teale, chairman of the committee, said yesterday that the session will be held in the Faculty Club Auditorium on the campus.

THE SENATOR called for testimony from county governments, agencies and utility firms "having knowledge and experience pertinent to overdraft, replenishment, 'banking' of water in underground basins, and problems related to the use of underground basins as storage reservoirs."

Persons and agencies wishing to testify before the committee must file their names and requests with Elizabeth Nielsen, secretary of the committee, at Room 3004 in the State Capitol at Sacramento before Dec. 3. The secretary may also be reached by telephone at the capitol where her extension is 4311.

"PREPARED STATEMENTS, with at least 20 copies for the committee, are preferred," the chairman said, "but oral testimony will be received."

Riverside County Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen, who initiated the county's request for such a hearing, said that he is attempting to notify everyone in the county who is "interested in attending this meeting."

U. S. paper money was first issued in its present size on Aug. 7, 1928. The bills were one-third smaller than their predecessors.

Who took the button out of Mr. Murphy's hearing aid?

SONOTONE DID! Our amazing eyeglass model lets him hear with both ears... yet he wears nothing in either ear!

How is it done... with no button, no cord, nothing in either ear? The secret is the new binaural hearing method combined with Sonotone's original bone-conduction invention.

Mr. Murphy hears all the sounds around him the "natural" way—with both ears. Yet everything is hidden in his good-looking glasses.

Latest styles available now for both men and women.

Dering to Receive 45-Year Scout Veteran Pin

Ed Dering, of Palm Springs, and Renwick Scott, of Riverside, will be presented 45-year veteran pins for service in Scouting at the 39th annual meeting of the Riverside County Council, Boy Scouts of America, at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 16, at the Elks' Club in Riverside.

Owen K. Burman, of Corona, president of the Scout Council, will preside at the business session. George Mardikian, of San Francisco, will be the speaker. J. L. Hunter and Newell Parker, of Riverside, are co-chairmen.

New Broccoli Sauce

NEW YORK — (UPI) — A rich and colorful sauce for broccoli combines 1 jar (6-ounce) hollandaise sauce with 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese and ¼ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives. Mix ingredients well, heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally, and serve over 1 package (10-ounce) frozen broccoli, cooked and drained.

WHEN PALM DESERT Players throw their Fashion Follies—a combination luncheon, fashion exhibition and variety show—at 1 p.m., Saturday, in Firecliff Lodge, Mrs. Mike Irwin, above, will be on hand with her "apana hanawale." Although some of the Players know what an "apana hanawale" is, they're not talking and the only other way to find out is to purchase a $2.50 ticket from one of them (or at the Kai-Loa Shoo in Palm Desert) and attend. Patrons can see it, touch it, even buy some of it, but not unless they're on hand for Fashion Follies.

Parking Variance Action Delayed By City Council

Acting on the request of Dr. James Blackstone, Jr., City Council members this week tabled action on a proposed parking variance for Palm Springs Community Church.

Dr. Blackstone asked the council to postpone action for two weeks to permit council members to view the church parking areas. The church is seeking a waiver of 32 parking spaces to permit construction of a new sanctuary building and church tower.

"I would like to give the council the opportunity to see the present parking situation and check our problems first-hand," Dr. Blackstone said.

The planning commission has approved a variance on city building height limitations for construction of the church tower and cross, it was pointed out last night.

There is now one vending machine for every 48 persons in the United States. The National Automatic Merchandising Association figures that each person pays $11.89 a year into the machines.

DEAR ABBY.. By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know I'm a darned fool but I am so much in love I can't see straight. Bruce knows I'd do anything in the world for him, but he just uses me to get filled in on other girls. He gets interested in a new girl about every two weeks, and asks me to "fill him in" on who she is, where she works and how she likes him. Bruce knows I have been in love with him ever since we were kids, but so far he treats me like a pal. I keep hoping that one day he will return my love. Please, Abby, how can I get Bruce to treat me like a sweetheart instead of a pal?

DOCTOR'S WIFE
DEAR ABBY: My brother met a girl four years ago. After courtship, he married her and now they have a son a year old. Before my brother met this girl she had a son out of wedlock. I never asked any questions because I felt it was their personal affair. My brother adopted this child and treats him with the same love as his own. My problem is: What to say to relatives and friends? Should the older boy be introduced as my brother's son, or just his wife's son? When I'm asked, "How many children has your brother?" should I say ONE or TWO?

DEAR SIS: Your brother has TWO sons. One adopted and one born to his wife and himself. Any other comments are unnecessary.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

ONLY A PAL
DEAR ONLY: If anything gets "filled in" it should be the holes in your head. A smart girl does not "fill in" a man with whom she is in love on details concerning the competition. Drop this helpful routine or you'll remain on the bench forever.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who signed herself "INSULTED" because every doctor, dentist and eye doctor tries to take advantage of her is typical of the neurotic, frustrated female who runs from doctor to doctor seeking attention other than medical. My husband is a doctor and he wouldn't touch a female patient unless his office nurse was standing beside him as a witness to his ethical behavior. He's worked
